INDIEGOGO FAQs

Why is Code10 doing a campaign?

We're a relatively new startup and we're investing everything we make into new designs and technology. Producing new products can be a big risk for a small company, so we use crowdfunding to check what our backers are interested in, and cover some of the setup costs of our first production.

Why should I back the campaign?

To say thanks for supporting us and being one of our Early Adaptors, we make sure that our backers receive a massive discount on the RRP.

Will I receive a product?

Yes! If you back our campaign, you'll receive the product you selected after our campaign finishes (provided we meet our goal of course!). If we don't meet our goal, you'll be refunded your FULL amount.

When will I get my product?

If you're lucky enough to get an Early Bird perk, we'll ship to you at the end of the campaign. If you backed a regular perk, we'll ship to you as soon as our manufacturing process is complete, approximately 70 days after the campaign ends.
